Background: Interleukin-1 β (IL-1 β) also known as catabolin, is a member of the interleukin 1 cytokine family. IL-1 β is a proinflammatory cytokine produced in a variety of cells, including monocytes, tissue macrophages, keratinocytes, and other epithelial cells. IL-1 β is an important mediator of the inflammatory response, and is involved in a variety of cellular activities, including cell proliferation, differentiation, and apoptosis. The induction of cyclooxygenase-2 (PTGS2/COX2) by Interleukin 1 β in the central nervous system (CNS). IL-1 β gene and eight other interleukin 1 family genes form a cytokine gene cluster on chromosome 2.

Sequence: Amino acid sequence derived from Rat IL-1 β (Q63264) (Val117-Ser268) was expressed.

Protein length: The recombinant Rat IL-1 β consists of 152 amino acids and has a predicted molecular mass of 17.4 kDa.

Endotoxin: < 1.0 EU per μ g of the protein as determined by the LAL method.

Formulation: Lyophilized from sterile PBS, pH 7.4.

Storage Instructions: Lyophilized Rat IL-1 β protein product should be stored desiccated below -18 $^{\circ}$ C. Upon reconstitution, the protein should be stored at 4 $^{\circ}$ C between 2 -7 days and for future use below -18 $^{\circ}$ C. For long term storage it is recommended to add a carrier protein (0.1% HSA or BSA). Please prevent freeze-thaw cycles.

Usage notes: Always centrifuge tubes before opening. It is recommended to reconstitute the lyophilized Rat IL-1 β protein using the buffer we provided not less than 100 μ g/ml, which can then be further diluted to other aqueous solutions.
